

Visit@Duke Feedback

4 responses

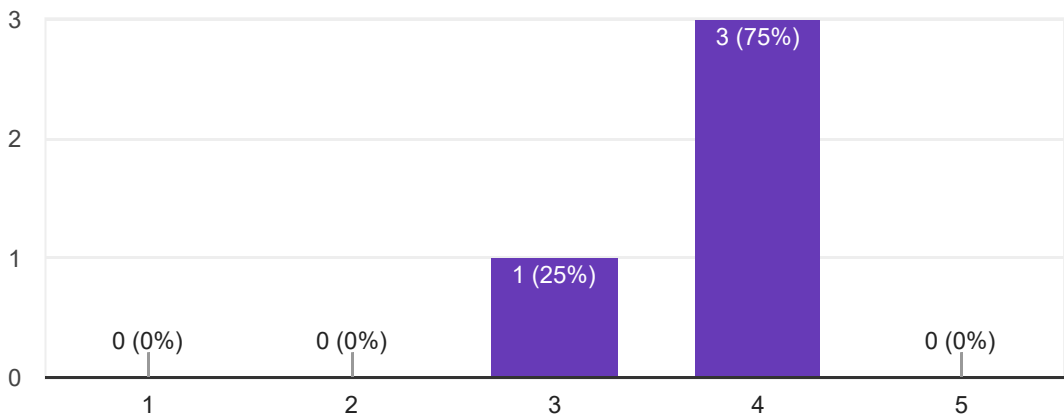

Your name:

4 responses

- Sam Lee
- Rachel Kim
- Joon PYun
- Charlotte Roh

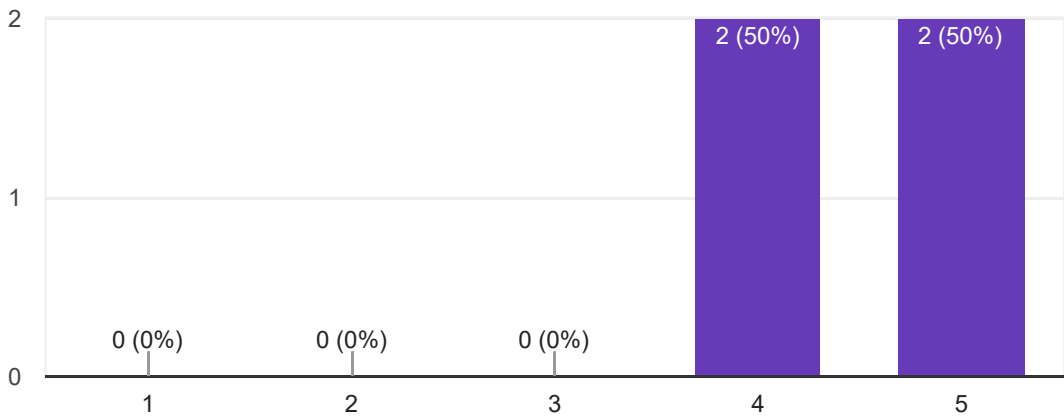

1. My life at Duke is dull, and I always wanted to have a travel app specifically on Duke.

4 responses

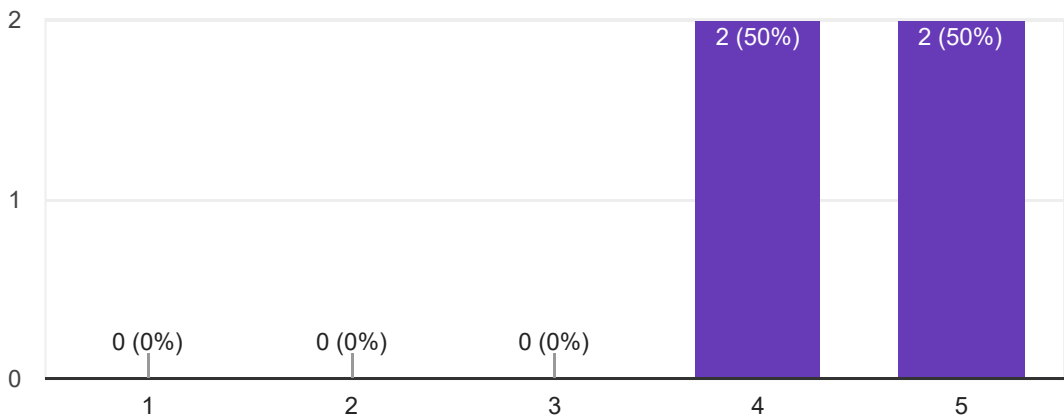

2. This website offered variety of places that I could visit at Duke.

4 responses

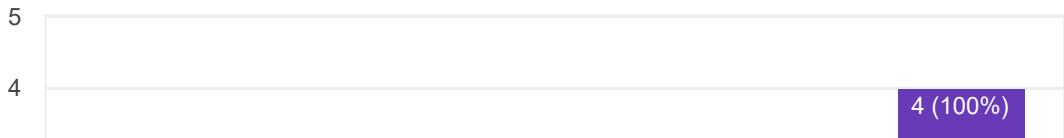

3. It was convenient to filter out places using different categories.

4 responses

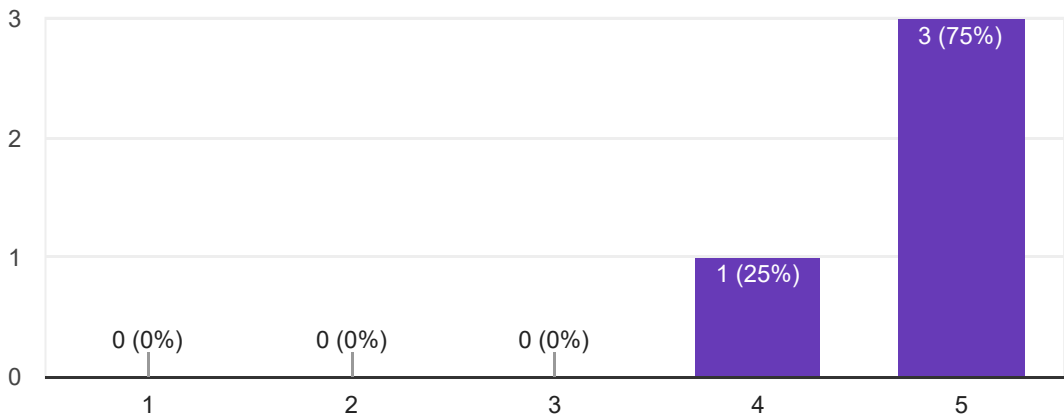

4. I believe this website will be useful for visitors at Duke to look around.

4 responses

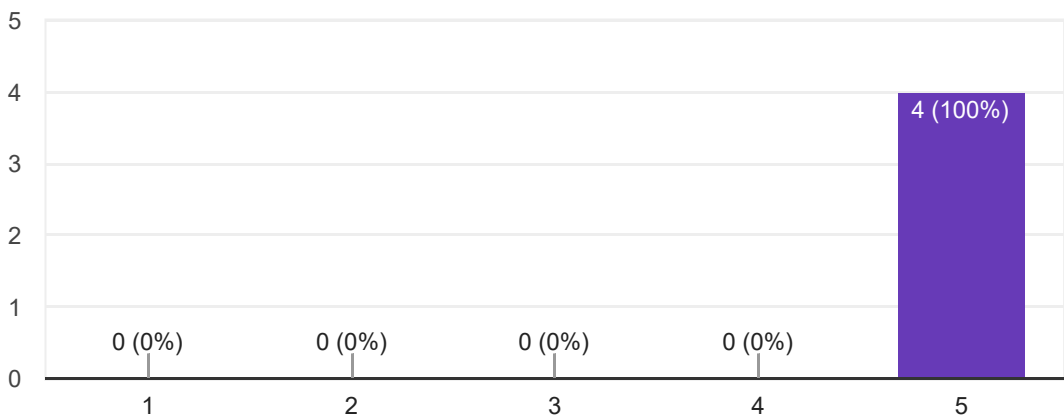

5. I would use it sometime in the future to actually schedule a trip at Duke.

4 responses

6. I would recommend it to my friends to use this website to try out new things at Duke.

4 responses

What are some concerns or inconvenient features that could be improved?

4 responses

I wish there was an option to filter out the places based on other categories, not just location.

It would be more helpful if each places are divided into the categories based on the purpose of the the places such as restaurants, libraries, etc and I can filter them out under "places," when I filter out certain campuses, it leaves blanks in the page, which is not so pretty. Also, the placement of "new post" in the forum was not so intuitive since it was next to categories such as Latest, Likes, Views, and Hot which are ways to organize existing posts. Maybe add a "venue type" filter not just a location filter

A noticeable bug on this website is when we toggle through different locations (i.e. different campuses), the items do not line up properly. Also it could've been better if there were categories we can filter through the types of the places (i.e. education, dining, entertainment etc.) because there's a filter for location but not for types.

What did you like about our website?

4 responses

I like how it generates a map for you so that you could easily navigate around.

Overall website was very helpful and motivates me to visit Duke. For me the most helpful part of this website was generating the map based on places that I saved.

It's clean and I like the way it looks.

I liked being able to filter some places out

It looks very organized – it's very clean, visually pleasing, while having all the functionality it needs. The interaction between users on the forum is incredibly well made in a sense that the user could filter through the posts based on different categories. The way how my preferred locations show up on the Google Map was pretty neat too. Overall, it's a well-made app that I would actually want to use based on individual needs.

This content is neither created nor endorsed by Google. Report Abuse - Terms of Service - Additional Terms

Google Forms